

Ms. Broderick is an ardent history lover and is so excited to be a part of the Social Studies team at Galileo. Her undergraduate study focused on history and secondary education at Marquette University. Committed to lifelong learning, Ms. B earned master's degrees in Curriculum and Instruction from George Washington University and Educational Leadership from Stetson University. She loves to travel and is often daydreaming about upcoming trips. An amateur baker drawing inspiration from her favorite program, The Great British Baking Show, she loves to bake treats for her husband and two daughters and dreams of winning a Paul Hollywood handshake one day.
